A BIG THANK YOU TO OUR AMAZING SPONSORS

OUR MATCH TONIGHT

Welcome to the iconic MATRADE Loftus Road stadium, the proud home of Queens Park Rangers FC.

I'm absolutely thrilled that we can host such an event again, and we're equally appreciative and grateful to QPR for agreeing to host it at the stadium. This partnership underscores the values of kindness and community support shared by both NNR and QPR, and it speaks volumes about the strength of our collaboration built on sustainable growth. With more than a century of history, both organisations are committed to maintaining personal relationships with their supporters & partners - all underpinned by pragmatic approaches with sustainable growth plans.

Like last year's initiative, let's make this match even more successful, rallying together to support The Tiger Cubs, QPR's football team for young people with Down's syndrome. It's truly an honour to contribute to such an extraordinary group of individuals and their families, who face challenges with unwavering courage every day. In a world where professional football is often associated with only riches, QPR is an exception, bridging the gap between sport and society. Their Men and Women's team take time for supporters, and their Community Trust is an amazing team of more than 100 superstars who work tirelessly for many local causes.

We hope you enjoy the evening and we extend our heartfelt appreciation for your support, along with that of your employers, our esteemed sponsors.

Your contributions make a world of difference, and we are sincerely grateful for your generosity.

The advertisement features a shirtless male model wearing a light-colored polo shirt. The shirt has the Errea logo on the left chest and the Queens Park Rangers crest on the right chest. Above the model, the Errea logo and the Queens Park Rangers crest are displayed, with the text 'OFFICIAL TECHNICAL SPONSOR' below them. In the top left corner of the ad, there is a 'OEKO TEX STANDARD 100' certification logo. In the top right corner, the website 'errea.com' is visible. At the bottom of the ad, the slogan 'WE STAND FOR CLEAN SPORT. EVEN FOR YOUR SKIN.' is written in a bold, orange, sans-serif font.

OUR PARTNERSHIP

ANDY SINTON

QPR CLUB AMBASSADOR

Both the club and I have had the pleasure of working with NNR for the last 3 seasons and in that time, our relationship has continued to go from strength to strength.

Having relied on their logistical expertise over the past 3 years, the relationship over the last season has been a much more conventional partnership. Indeed, it's become even stronger.

Not only have they continued to extend their fantastic support to our Women's team, by continuing on as the front of shirt partner for the third season in a row. They have also proved an invaluable support to our Tiger Cubs, kitting our beloved players out in the latest range, who also proudly bear the NNR logo on the front of their shirts.

Tonight's match is another in a long line of fundraising initiatives spearheaded by Managing Director Lee Griffiths, and Strategic Sales Manager Gary Strange to support the Tiger Cubs. On behalf of all of us at the club I'd like to extend them and the whole NNR team a massive thank you.

Hope everyone involved has a great night.

ANDY EVANS

CEO – QPR COMMUNITY TRUST

Since the inception of our partnership, NNR Global Logistics have been devoted supporters of the QPR Tiger Cubs - our football team for children and young people with Down's Syndrome.

Now in its 17th year, the Tiger Cubs project aims to create a multi-tiered learning environment that will improve participants' overall physical, social and emotional health.

Last summer's NNR charity match at MATRADE Loftus Road Stadium raised £7,500 towards the running costs of the project, which unlike many national community club organisation initiatives is not funded through tv revenue streams.

Along with the annual Tiger Feet walk, the support of NNR through their sponsorship and fundraising is integral to the future of the Tiger Cubs programme and the QPR family are grateful to everyone supporting the fundraiser at Loftus Road this evening.

Charlotte Edwards QPR FC's Head of Equality Diversity & Inclusion 'NNR understand what family and community engagement mean here at QPR. Whether it's with our women's first team or the Tiger Cubs, they actively engage in activities to help keep projects going that are vital to the local community.

We are proud to be one of the largest Down Syndrome football providers in the country offering 3 sessions per week across West & North-west London, but just as importantly offering respite for the players wider family & support network. This comes at a cost, so partnerships such as this one are an important lifeline.

Thankyou Lee, Gary and the whole team at NNR for being huge advocates of the work at QPR Community Trust'.

QPR WOMEN'S TEAM

CHARLOTTE EDWARDS

HEAD OF EQUALITY, DIVERSITY & INCLUSION

QPR FC Women are coming to the end of a strong league campaign, which at the time of writing has the team sitting in 4th position in the table. Whilst there were early exits in The FA and Capital Cups, QPR continue through the rounds of the Combined Counties Midweek Cup...next stop Maidenhead United.

The welcome return in the summer of midfielders, Courtney Ward-Chambers, Nicole Melling and Emily Hill, have made a huge impact to the strength and depth of the squad this season. On the flip side, younger players such as Izzy Owen and Mya Francis-Pownall, have secured starting places in the squad showing the importance of our junior and development squads.

NNR Global Logistics have partnered as front of shirt sponsor for the women's team for 3 seasons and in this time women's football in the UK has taken off.

Even within the lower leagues, teams are now securing significant investment, and this is having a big effect on the profile and increased professionalism of the game.

This change is also evident at QPR, with the new multi-million pound training ground facility at Heston, which will be home over the next few years to all female and male competitive QPR teams.

We look forward to celebrating a strong finish in the FA Womens National League in a fortnight's time, but in the meantime, from everyone at QPR FC Women, a huge thankyou to NNR for their continued support. Have a good match this evening and COME ON YOU NNR'ssss!
